☐ Career Objective

To obtain a position as a Data Analyst or Senior Executive – Accounts & Finance, where I can apply my skills in Python, Excel, and data visualization tools like Streamlit and Plotly. My goal is to support business decisions through automation, insights, and process optimization in a dynamic and data-driven organization.

---

☐ Professional Summary

Self-motivated and detail-oriented professional with diverse experience across sales, pharmaceutical operations, software systems, and data analysis. Although my journey includes multiple short-term roles, each career move was driven by a strong desire to learn new skills, take on more responsibility, and discover my long-term strengths. Over time, I have found my passion in data analytics and accounts reporting, where I now focus on automation, insights, and long-term contribution.

Currently working as a Accountant (Data Analyst) in the accounts department, with strong expertise in Python (Pandas, Streamlit, Plotly,), Excel, and sales dashboards. I bring cross-functional understanding and hands-on reporting experience from both technical and operational roles
